

WE WANT TO SAY THANK YOU

Supporters of IB programmes come from all walks of life. Educators, parents, alumni, students, government officials, donors and university professionals all contribute to the growth and continuous improvement of IB programmes, through activities as diverse as participating in curriculum review meetings, sitting on academic and governance committees and mentoring and training new and interested schools.

The governance of the organization consists of a 17-member Council of Foundation and a series of supporting committees in which many more people are involved. These bodies represent a diversity of nationalities, cultures, languages and professions. What they have in common is an undeniable passion and enthusiasm for IB programmes and a commitment to the organization's mission and values. We are truly grateful to all those people helping to govern the IB by dedicating their time, energy and expertise.

Council of Foundation

The Council of Foundation appoints the director general, sets the strategic direction of the organization, adopts a mission statement, makes policy, oversees the financial management and ensures the autonomy and integrity of IB Diploma Programme examinations and other student assessment. Council membership represents cultural and geographical diversity. It includes five heads of IB World Schools, one representative from each regional advisory committee, and ex officio and ad personam members with varied professional experience.

2006 contributors

Fundraising for the IB allows it to do what it does best: to deliver high quality, international education. Strengthening and extending IB programmes is possible when extra resources are tapped into.

“Fundraising connects people to one another and gives them an opportunity to make a difference in the world. It aids the development of community.”

Andrea Lucard, IB development director

We are extremely grateful for the direct contributions received from the following.

Our goal for 2006:

Expand the organization’s capacity to fundraise and further mobilize the volunteer network and circle of IB friends.

What we achieved:

The new development director has been working closely with the IB Fund Board to enhance the IB international profile and to connect supporters of the IB to one another and to IB projects that interest them most.
