You may be interested to visit the public website at www.ibo.org for more details.

One of the characteristics of the IB's Diploma Programme is that students are required to study, as one of six subjects that constitute the diploma, one of three 'Language A' courses, each designed to develop high social, aesthetic and cultural literacy, as well as communication skills. The IB's Language A: literature course is for students aged 16-18, and involves the study of both literature originally written in the language of the course, and works of other languages and cultures studied in translation. Emphasis of the course is directed towards developing an understanding of the techniques involved in literary criticism and promoting the ability to form independent literary judgments.

Further information about the course is available at: <http://ibo.org/programmes/diploma-programme/curriculum/language-and-literature/language-a-literature-slhl/>
