Overview of higher education in India

In India, "University" means a University established or incorporated by or under a Central Act, a Provincial Act or a State Act and includes any such institution as may, in consultation with the University concerned, be recognized by the University Grants Commission (UGC) in accordance with the regulations made in this regard under the UGC Act, 1956.

At present, the main categories of University/University-level Institutions are:

- Central University
- State University
- Private University
- Deemed-to-be University
- Institution of National Importance
- Institutions under State Legislature Act

There are 45 Central Universities, 318 State Universities, 185 State Private universities, 129 Deemed to be Universities, 51 Institutions of National Importance, and 4 institutions established under various State legislations. The number of colleges affiliated to these universities has also grown to 37,204, as on 31st March, 2013.

University Grants Commission

The UGC is responsible for providing funds, coordination, determination and maintenance of standards in institutions of higher education in India. It also serves as a vital link between the Union and state governments and institutions of higher learning and advises the Central and State governments on the measures necessary for improvement of university education. The universities in India are granted recognition by UGC in accordance with the regulations made under the UGC Act, 1956. Before enrolling to a university, students must check the recognition status of the university.

Applying to Indian Universities

Entry to undergraduate courses is based on the performance in grade 12 examination and/or entrance test. Entry requirements vary from university to university and course to course. Prior to commencing the DP, students and parents must be familiar with the required subject combinations and levels for the student's future career path; this should ensure students' eligibility for particular professional courses. A student interested in studying an undergraduate course must make direct contact with the college or university he or she would like to attend to check specific course and entry requirements.

Most of the professional institutes in India today prefer to conduct entrance exams for selecting candidates. The entrance tests are in the month of April/May or June. While some institutes participate in a common entrance exam, others may conduct their own individual entrance exams. It is important to check the application deadline for each institution, as deadlines may vary. A number of universities in India accept students provisionally on the basis of predicted grades. Please talk to your school college counsellor or the IBDP coordinator to help you with the admission process.

Overview of higher education in India

Engineering

Admission to Undergraduate Engineering Programs at NITs, and other Centrally Funded Technical Institutions is based on the performance in the Grade 12/equivalent qualifying Examination and in the Joint Entrance Examination, JEE (Main).

For admission into IITs, the top 150, 000 candidates who qualify the JEE (MAIN) exam appear for JEE (Advanced). Admissions is based only on category-wise All India Rank (AIR) in JEE (Advanced), subject to conditions as defined in JEE (Advanced) website.

A number of universities conduct their own entrance tests as well, students should refer to the university website for the most up to date information.

Medicine

There is a requirement to study three sciences (Physics, Chemistry and Biology) for studying medicine in India. The IB gives permission to students to take the three sciences. Students can explore two options; the first option is to take an additional science subject as an 'extra' certificate. Although this will come with extra work, the overall score for this extra course will not count towards the IB diploma score, and therefore the utility of taking the extra course is simply to satisfy the entrance requirements for the university requiring three sciences. The second option is to apply for a non-regular IB diploma, thus allowing three sciences to be completed, usually in lieu of a group 3 (Individuals and societies) subject. A candidate may be authorized to take a non-regular diploma only if the proposed higher education course allows no other alternative. The student must contact the IB coordinator at the school to proceed with this request. Please note that this request must be submitted to the IB Cardiff office (via the IB coordinator) at least 18 months prior to the examinations.

Taking three sciences only helps meet the minimum entry requirements for studying Medicine in most colleges, students often will have to sit the entrance test which may require additional tutorials.

Admission to medicine is based on the entrance test, the All India Pre-Medical/Pre-Dental Entrance Test (AIPMT) for the 15% merit positions in the Medical/Dental Colleges of India. There are also State Governments/Universities/Institutions voluntarily participating in the All India Pre-Medical/Pre-Dental Entrance Test. A number of universities conduct their own entrance test. Students should check the university websites for details on the entrance tests required.

Accreditation

National Assessment and Accreditation Council, was established by the University Grants Commission to evaluate the quality of higher education in India. In addition to that, Professional councils are responsible for recognition of courses, promotion of professional institutions and providing grants to undergraduate programmes and various awards. There are 15 professional councils in India including All India Council of Technical Education (AICTE) which recognizes technical education in India and Medical Council of India (MCI) recognizes Medical education in India amongst others. Before enrolling for a professional course, students must check if the institute has the relevant accreditation.

Evaluation of Foreign Degrees

The Association of Indian Universities is a society which promotes universities activities. The Evaluation division of AIU is responsible for the work relating to equivalence of degrees/certificates awarded by the accredited foreign universities/educational institutions. The Division also provides information to foreignstudents to facilitate their admission in Universities/other educational Institutions in the country.

Overview of higher education in India

Please note: Before enrolling to a university, students must check the recognition status of the university.

Recognition of the IB Programmes in India

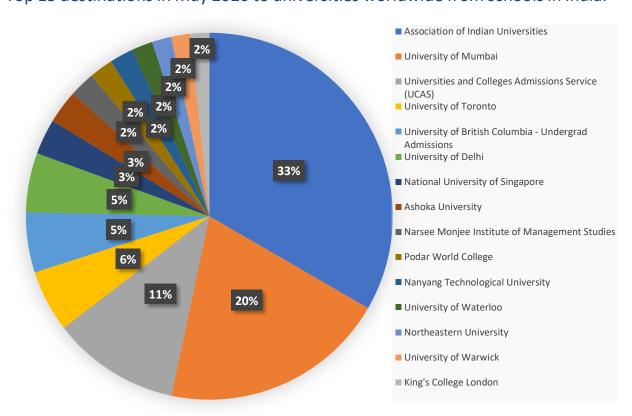

Since 1983 International Baccalaureate Diploma has been recognized by the Association of Indian universities as an entry qualification to all universities in India. With the requirement for percentage conversion by universities in India, students applying to Indian universities receive a transcript with IB grades and suggested percentages. In order to receive Indian Transcripts, students must notify their Diploma Programme (DP) coordinator of their plan to apply to an Indian university. The coordinator will then submit the request using the Request for results service on IBIS (secure website for IB coordinators). Students applying to Indian Universities can apply foran equivalence certificate from AIU upon release of their results, or apply directly to the eligibility department of the university they wish to attend. The International Baccalaureate Middle Years Programme has also been given equivalence with grade 10 of an IndianBoard Assessment by the Association of Indian Universities. Students having completed the MYP can apply at any school or junior college in India.

K.C. Kalra UMDER SECRETARY

Dear Mr. Slackburn.

Enclosure

Thank you for your letter of 10 August 1983 alongwith a copy of I30 Handbook.

I have seen the tearsheet from the I3D handbook and find it in order except that the names of the Universities(Ajmer Medical School, Delhi; Hyderabad; Karnatak; Mysore) may not be produced. As the decisions on equivalence are taken by the Equivalence Committee consisting of Vice-Chandallors, the executives heads of universities, we have not come across a case where All opinion although advisory is not accepted.

The IB Ciploma is generally accepted by most of the universities, at par, with +2 stage qualifications as recommended by the AIU. The students who intend to join the universities in this country after completion of their IB qualifications may not find any difficulty for assessments of their academic attainments. They are welcome to seek our assistance in case of difficulty.

We had suggested to Mr. Robert Creighton that the students who intend to join universities in this country might be given a copy of the following resolution adopted by the AIU.

"Resolved that the International Paccalaureate Ciploma Examination awarded by the International Paccalaureate Office, Geneva, Switzerland be recognised as equialent to a pass in the +2 stage of the new pattern of education (10+2)."

Dear Ms Taneja:

Kindly refer to your letter of August 01, 2012 regarding the issue of recognition of IB Diploma as equivalent to 10+2 certificate issued by any Indian School Board for admission consideration at Ahmedabad University. This issue was discussed in the Academic Council meeting of the University in its meeting on August 27, 2012. The Academic Council of the University has decided to approve your Diploma for admission to the programme as equivalent to 10+2 school certificate of any Indian school board.

Regarding the provisional admission to the IB students, we are unable to make a commitment at this point of time as all admissions are based on the University norms as well as the Government of Gujarat directives.

Dear Ms. Taneja,

I am writing in response to your mail of December 7, 2010. We would be happy to consider the IB Diploma Examination to be equivalent to the II PUC/12th standard examination for the purpose of admission to our undergraduate programme. However, please note that this programme is at present open only to students holding Indian passports and they have to qualify for admission through a national examination such as KVPY, IIT-JEE, AIEEE and AIPMT. If a student is selected for admission and the results of the final examination are not available at the time of counseling (third week of June 2011), his/her admission will be provisional. When classes start in the first week of August 2011, the student will have to produce a marks card that confirms that he/she has studied Physics, Chemistry and Mathematics as main subjects and received a first class (60%) or equivalent grade in the final examination.

Please feel free to contact me if you need more information.

School of Liberal Studies (PDPU) - IB recognition policy

1. Admissions Statement

School of Liberal Studies (SLS), Pandit Deendayal Petroleum University (PDPU), offers a 4-year UG program in B.A. (Hons.), B.B.A. (Hons.) and B.Com. (Hons). SLS values the International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme and its engaging and challenging curriculum, which encourages critical thinking, intercultural understanding and respect. We welcome applications from IB students.

II. Admissions Requirement

Determining the entry requirements for your university

Admission to SLS is competitive, and in general admission to most courses is based only on performance in the entrance test. The scores from any board are not considered while drawing the merit list.

Students can apply for any courses and there are no pre-requisites for the same. The only exception is B.Com.(Hons.) for which the student should have studied Accounting for 2 years prior to joining university.

Use of predicted grades and past performance

To make admission process very simple for IB students, we have waived the requirement of submitting predicted grades. We directly offer a 'provisional admission' if the student qualifies the merit list, and they can commence classes. They are required to submit their final IB gradesheet upon receipt of the same. If they are unable to provide a gradesheet and have passed their relevant papers in IB, the admission is revoked.

III. Admissions Procedure

Procedure for admissions

Domestic and international/foreign student admissions

If you are studying the IB diploma in India (irrespective of nationality) have to apply for undergraduate courses through the normal procedure mentioned on the university website.

If you are studying the IB Diploma Programme overseas (irrespective of nationality), you can apply directly to the university online through the Office of International Relations. Admission is based on your marks in the IB diploma and you do not need to take the entrance test (as per 2015 admission norms, the policy for 2016 is yet to be announced).

Special considerations, credit and advanced standing

SLS does not provide tuition fee waivers. Instead, SLS maintains an economical fees to increase the program's accessibility to all students. Also, SLS provides financial and non-financial support to admitted students for academic travel, research, non-credit workshops, and equipment.

Awarding credit

SLS recognizes IB achievement (Diploma) and provides equal opportunity for admission.

V. Additional information

EQUIVALENCES

71. The various Boards have given equivalences to each others' examinations and consequently the transfer from one Board to another is possible on a point to point equivalence basis. However, each Board/University is at liberty to put eligibility conditions for the next stage e.g. Class XI or the 1st year of college or a professional course. In other words equivalence is only equating two examinations and Eligibility may have additional conditions prescribed by the Board/University.

As regards the foreign qualifications, this Board accepts the recognition/equivalence determined by Association of Indian Universities, AIU House, 16, Comrade Indrajeet Gupta Marg, New Delhi. AIU have recognized for purpose of admission to higher studies in India the qualifications of about 85 countries all of which are listed country wise in the AIU publication 'Equivalence of Foreign Degrees'.
